DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-40, 42-52, 54, 55, 57-138 are presented for examination

Examiner's Amendment

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim "136" has been changed to claim "135".

Claim "137" has been changed to claim "136".

Claim "138" has been changed to claim "137".

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Shaukat Karjeker, registration number 34,049.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Art Unit: 2761

The Examiner asserts that a method and apparatus for preparing a client communication pertaining to a financial product or insurance product for a client, wherein the client communication is for combined use with a corresponding and respective host vehicle, selecting information from a database comprising information about a plurality of clients; using decision information to automatically select from the database variable information, the variable information comprising other than client identification, automatically inserting the variable information into the client communication, and combining the client communication with the host vehicle into a single communication, in combination with the limitations of the claim is not taught in the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:
 - A. Wolff et al. (5,671,282) disclosed a method and apparatus for document verification and tracking;
 - B. John Foley teaches collecting and reusing customer information for target marketing. A database of consumers purchases, rewards, and promotions is tracked, to manage the printing of billing statements with customized offers and messages. The database is capable of supporting hundreds of millions of promotions. The specific offers are target to specific customers based on their spending patterns.

Art Unit: 2761
